Requirements for the Minor

a. 18 credits in approved economics course with a grade of “C-“ or better in each course.
b. ECON 101 and 103 plus at least one intermediate theory course (ECON 251, 255, 300, or 301) with a grade of “C-“ or better.
c. The remaining 9 credits may be taken from any economics course at the 300 level or higher subject to policy d listed below.
d. No economics course in which the student has received a grade lower than “C-“ may be counted toward fulfillment of the 18 credit requirement. If a grade below a “C-“ is received in any other economics course, it does not have to be repeated, but can be used as a free elective and another economics course can be taken in its place to meet the minimum 18 credits with a “C-“ or better. If a course is repeated, all grades appear on the transcript and count when calculating the grade point average. Credits may be earned only once.
   Some subjects covering very similar material are taught in more than one course but at different levels of rigor and detail. Credit will not be allowed for both courses of any of the following sets of corresponding courses: ECON 332 and ECON 433; ECON 344 and ECON 444; ECON 360 and ECON 463; ECON 381 and ECON 483; ECON 390 and ECON 490; ECON 415 and ECON 422. Credit may be earned for only ONE course among ECON 251, ECON 255, ECON 300, and ECON 301.

@ECON 151 and 152 were renumbered in 2014 fall to ECON 101 and 103.
