Pre-Registration Checklist for Lerner College Students on Academic Probation

To ensure students receive academic advisement that will help support them in their efforts to improve their academic performance, a “registration hold” will be placed on their UDSIS record. In order to register for next semester’s courses, students are required to meet with their academic advisor. This form does not replace the need for students to formally register for their courses in UDSIS during appropriate registration periods.

✓ Checklist:

Student sees academic advisor to discuss status and registration for next semester.

During the appointment:

Advisor reviews current academic standing and appropriate UD resources with student

Students on Academic Probation are not permitted to enroll in more than 4 major classes each semester. The following four (4) courses were recommended to this student:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

Possible alternatives in case above courses are full:

Student signs and dates form

Academic advisor signs and dates form and gives student a copy.

Academic advisor brings completed form to 103 Lerner Hall and the “registration hold” will be removed within 24 hours. The student will then be able to register through UDSIS during appropriate registration periods.

I have reviewed the following information with my advisor and/or advisee and understand my responsibilities in this process.
